ACS Entrepreneurial Summit

September 17-18, 2015 | Washington, DC

Spotlighting the Efforts of Large & Small Chemistry-Based Innovators

The ACS Entrepreneurial Summit is an event hosted by the American Chemical Society (ACS) highlighting the interplay among chemical entrepreneurs, investors, and large innovators as they work towards advancing chemistry-based innovation into the market.

At this year's Summit, corporate partners will shed light on their innovation processes and interests, industry experts will discuss their best practices, top-performing entrepreneurs will pitch their businesses, and ACS Divisions and other organizations will share additional resources available for stakeholders interested in chemistry-based entrepreneurship.
